Introduction

The scope of sports activities is divided into six categories: educational sports, recreation sports, performance sports, amateur sports, professional sports and disabled sports. (Act No. 3 of 2005, 2005) One of the sports that has such characteristics is Futsal. Futsal can be described as mini-football, because although the rules of play are almost the same as football, the fields used are smaller and there are fewer players. In Indonesia, futsal began to grow around 2003, although from 1999 to the 2000s, many pioneers have begun to pioneer. For those who live in cities, futsal feels like a suitable sport alternative because they can exercise in places with narrow terrain. This is what the entrepreneurs are looking for to open a futsal pitch for rent. By providing a variety of support facilities can increase the interest of consumers. Interestingly, this sport can be played by almost all ages, from children, adults, even parents, even if it's just to get a sweat. So from that many communities are formed by themselves, from how often they play this sport. Knowledge of the rules of futsal sports is an important part of the obligation to know for those who make futsals an accomplishment.

So the achievement of optimal performance in futsal sport in addition to being influenced by physical condition also have to pay attention to the elements of technique, tactics, mental maturity, cooperation and teamwork, as well as experience in competition. All these aspects form a unified unity. The achievement is not beyond the pattern of the building system. Through the gradual improvement of regular training at the PORPROV Team building site, Princess Futsal District of Sidoarjo is one of the containers aimed at developing the talents of the athletes, so that they perform both inside and outside the building and can develop the talent or abilities that they have to compete with other athletes. Therefore, an athlete must be equipped with the best ability and expertise in playing futsal. All of the above is the key to the success of PORPROV Futsal Team Princess District Sidoarjo to the desired and proud achievement.

Not only in the PORPROV Princess Futsal Team of Sidoarjo district but also in the PorPROV Futsals Team of the SidoARJO district has been able to donate gold medals to the city of Siroarjo. This good news has been welcomed by the Sidoarjo and the community.
